

You were humbled to be accompanied by Tock, the Watchdog; if he had been unavailable at the start you would have been met instead by his assistants, all of whom have pocket watches on thin braided ropes, with whom you would have travelled Bookspace while their timepieces on lanned the time away.